PROCLAMATION
CREDIT UNION DAY
OCTOBER 21, 2004

WHEREAS, credit unions are individual, independent cooperatives founded by people working together toward economic advancement, seeking a way to improve their future; and

WHEREAS, credit unions pool the personal resources and leadership abilities for the good of the cooperative, encourage a regular habit of savings so those in need may borrow, and foster the desire to repay loans so members may have access to credit when it is required; and

WHEREAS, credit unions join together in educational and service systems to remain viable, progressive institutions, better able to serve the needs of its members; and

WHEREAS, credit unions empower people to improve their economic situations in 84 nations around the world, through more than 40,500 credit unions currently serving the financial needs of 123 million members, including 190,000 members in North Dakota, associated through 55 credit unions statewide; and

WHEREAS, North Dakota's credit unions are recognized for their continuing interest in the welfare and development of their members and for the many contributions they have made to the communities in which they serve, as well as the entire state; and

NOW, THEREFORE, as Governor of the State of North Dakota, I do hereby proclaim October 21, 2004, CREDIT UNION DAY in the state of North Dakota.
